2010 Iowa Community Conference

"As a longtime participant I have found the Iowa Community Conference to be a valuable and worthwhile experience year in and year out. Congressman Latham brings important information to those in attendance through representatives from key government agencies that attend to talk with us. I would highly recommend you take advantage of this conference."

Jim Kersten— Iowa Central Community College

"The ability to hear the straight facts and ask questions about proposed rules, regulations, and positions of the federal bureaucracy that administer programs that affect our budget and the provision of services is invaluable. The conference has been excellent for a number of years and I can always be assured to learn something new when I go."

Brent Trout - City Administrator
City of Mason City

"Congressman Latham's Iowa Community Conference is a great forum to help communities effectively maneuver in Washington, D.C. Access to quality presenters at this event allows for meaningful dialogue that has certainly enhanced our efforts here in Ames."
